

	Median (IQR)*
Appropriateness (N=40 all respondents)
It is medically appropriate to check postpartum blood pressure during newborn visits	8 (6.5 – 9)
The clinical teams I work with will think it is appropriate to check postpartum blood pressure during newborn visits	6.5 (5 – 9)
The families I work with will think it is appropriate to check postpartum blood pressure during newborn visits	8 (6 – 9)
Feasibility (N=27, newborn care respondents only)
My work site has the equipment to check postpartum blood pressure	9 (8 – 9)
My work site has staff who know how to check postpartum blood pressure	8 (7 – 9)
My work site has staff who know how to interpret postpartum blood pressure	7 (3 – 9)
My work site has time to check postpartum blood pressure	5 (3 – 7)
My work site has time to interpret postpartum blood pressure	5 (3 – 7)
My work site has time to ensure appropriate follow-up for elevated postpartum blood pressure	4.5 (2 – 7)
* 9 point Likert scale, 1 = completely disagree, 9 = completely agree	