

Figure 1.

Integrated Framework: Roles, Identity, Social Context

Intersection of medical educator roles and identity within social context. Identity is formed through engagement with roles, mediated by individual agency, all situated within context. Contextual factors shape both role assignment and identity development, influencing the degree of overlap between the two.